(a) whether it was reported by government that only 5 percent of rural habitations are to be covered under drinking water programme by 2001 -02, but surveys hardly support this optimistic picture and on the other hand indicate acute hardship and quality problems in about half of the rural habitation. Are Government aware of this discrepancy in estimations;

(b) why mere is so much of discrepancy between Government records and ground reality

(c) how did this happen;

(d) have Government taken any steps to know the real situation or to conduct more authentic studies; and

(e) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT (SHRI SUBHASH MAHARIA): (a) to (e) As per the information received from States/ UTs as on 1.4.2001,19548 habitation (1.4%) remained to be fully covered and as on 12.112002, there were about 1.1 percent of rural habitations remaining to be covered under rural drinking water programme. The discrepancy arises due to position being different in the village. Reasons are:—

(i) increase in population and number of habitations;

(iii) sources going dry due to depletion of ground water level; and

(iv) sources have becoming quality affected.

The Govt, proposes to conduct a nation-wide survey to assess the present status of coverage of rural habitations under Rural Water Supply Programme. The State Governments have been requested to conduct survey of quality affected habitations to assess the actual number of such habitation.
